“Hazy, hot and humid with possible rain and T-storms” What a summer!

I am looking forward to a sunny, warm and dry Fall and a new dance and theater season at THE STUDIO.

Each September, we enjoy welcoming new and returning students, introducing new classes and continuing our well-established, regular class schedule, taught by our great staff of teachers. Some highlights for this coming year are:

Brian Jones will be starting a new Tap workshop; Erja Fischer, a guest artist, will be teaching Jazz, Ballet and an awesome stretch class; Beth Berry is returning to teach her popular children's Theater.

Chris Tedeschi is back on board, managing the business end of our school while Ann Zarrella takes a well-earned rest after doing a terrific job filling in for Chris.

As in all schools, students come and go, but we especially miss the ones that have grown up with us, like Alea Stokes, who is off to college this Fall and Heather Richardson who has just graduated with a degree in Dance. She is currently auditioning for various professional dance opportunities and teaching for me at THE STUDIO.

Enclosed is our new Fall Schedule and I hope you will sign up for a favorite class or perhaps try a new one - either way, see you there!

Sincerely,
Marilyn Smayda
